

Meredith Mullins

Meredith Mullins is an internationally exhibited fine-art photographer living bi-continently (in Paris and Pacific Grove, California ... two of the most beautiful places on earth).

With a background in television, film, and communications, Meredith has worked as a photojournalist, as well as an exhibiting fine-art photographer for more than 40 years. Her work is represented in museum and private collections throughout North America and Europe, including the Bibliothèque Nationale in Paris and the Weston Gallery in Carmel, California.

Her photographs have been in more than 50 exhibits worldwide and have appeared in numerous publications, including Paris Magazine, Carmel Magazine, Camera Arts Magazine, National Geographic Education, Bonjour Paris, Eye Prefer Paris, McGraw-Hill and Wadsworth publications, and Paris Voice.

She has also received several prestigious awards, including the Grand Concours sur Paris, Paris Photography Prize, The Worldwide Gala Award, Center for Photographic Art Juried Competition Award, Photographer's Forum Award, and the Julia Margaret Cameron Award.

Prior to moving to Paris, Meredith was a leader in the art community on the Monterey Peninsula for more than 30 years, including teaching photography and serving on arts commissions and photography boards. In 2001, she received a California Visual Artist of the Year award.

Her award-winning book of photographs and stories, In A Paris Moment, was released in 2006. Her work is also represented in calendars published by Browntrout Publishers of San Francisco. She most recently served as co-founder and director of the International Fine Art Photography Program, a competition designed to support emerging fine art photographers.

Her philosophy can be summed up in one phrase: "Vive la photographie!"
