- 1. Backyard surprise visitors
The story is clear between the image and the title. Enough of the girl's shoe is shown so it doesn't look like a setup shot. Nice timing, too.
- 2. Fire in Prunedale from Highway 101
Yes, this is a fire but I have no sense of the title location..
- 3. Fresh Poultry in Suzhou
I feel this is a great travel photo but would tell a better story for me if she was doing something with her hands
- 4. Ground Level Flavors
A nice scene but, I'm not getting a sense of the story. Perhaps a Travel category would work better.
- 5. Halloween greeting
We clearly see the face of the person, the hand and fingers are completely in the image, the right hand shaking hands with the costumer is clearly the story. Great Catch.
- 6. Hope Survives
This is a stark image with the damaged materials, the wiring and the rocks in almost a monochrome look with the image in bright contrast. Clearly, Hope Survives is the matching title.
- 7. Housekeeping comes to Carmel Beach
Nice leading lines, but I don't see the object creating the 'housekeeping'. I don't see the story here even though the title tells a nice story.
- 8. Last minute advice
Lovely matching story told both by the image and the matching title. We don't need the girls face because we have the face of the subject. Great seeing.
- 9. Love and Loss
This is a poignant moment, eloquently told with the lone chimney and the Emergency Response sign. I normally like to see the faces of the subject but in this case this is perfect.

10. Man against beast
I do love rodeos but the tail pulling is just too much for me. Again the title doesn't really fit for me.
11. Never too late to practice in the schoolyard
the photo and the title work together perfectly. Including the case, the instrument and the music with the legs of a person in the background tells a complete story.
Congratulations!
12. Not a hair out of place
These moments are very hard to capture fast enough but this is wonderful. The upheld brush, the commanding finger, the number on the sleeve and enough of the face to know who it is all comes together with the title.
13. Shipment to Suzhou Market
I so wish the faces of the men were visible. As it is it makes a nice Travel image. There is nothing in the image to tell us where the shipment is going. Titles are critical in photojournalism..
14. Teenage Hawaiian shaka greetings
Nice shot of these 3 boys but I don't see the story in the image.
15. Waist-high in a Sea of Tea
This does tell a story and the subject is up close, sharp and very clear in the photo. She is waist-high in the tea but I would prefer to see her complete hands as picking the tea is the story.
