

01-A Future Model.jpg

Carol Fuessnich

Sweet portrait with good lighting and composition. Possible resolution issue with the image.

02-Alex - Berry Harvest.jpg

Chyrl Light

The lighting is very harsh in this photograph. Either use a diffusion panel or move to open shade. The background is very blown out and distracting.

03-Always the ballerina.jpg

Frank Penner

I like the innocence of this photograph. The background is distracting for me, would be better with a darkened background or different cropping. Possible focus issue as well.

Nicole Asselborn

I love the old-fashioned feel of this photograph. Reminds me of portraits hung in my grandparent's house.

05-Brooks BW Portrait.jpg

Rick Thau

Good pose and composition but there is no light on his face. Reposition him so he has the light hitting his face and not his back.

06-Childhood Innocence.jpg

Carol Fuessench

There is a resolution issue with this image, it looks very pixelated. Besides that, good composition and expression.

07-Drew - Berry Harvest.jpg

Chyrl Light

Again very harsh lighting. Move him into the shade or use a diffusion panel.

09-Lady in tradional clothing, Pt. Lobos_.jpg

Kent Van Vuren

Great lighting and composition. Nice clean background. She makes me smile.

10-Russ BW Portait.jpg

Rick Thau

Good lighting and framing but maybe crop in closer and try different expressions. I would also crop out the distracting garbage can or object on the right.

11-Reflection of a reflection of a lady in Bangkok_.jpg

Kent Van Vuren

I like the abstract feeling of this image. The framing and composition is great.

12-Sidewalk artist.jpg

Frank Penner

I like the framing of this image, maybe crop in tighter to eliminate the white window on the top and some of the road on the bottom.

I would also adjust the contrast, image looks a little flat.

13-What do you think.jpg

Nicole Asselborn

Good composition in framing. This image looks to have a resolution problem and the highlights are very blown out.
